Hash No.: 136 – Topsham Brewery Tap, Exeter canal basin

Hare: Mr X

Hashers: Too many to list, but in regard to our hash: Able Seaman; Adonis; Buzby; Come 2 Nite; Dr Doolittle; GHR; Hairy Mollusc; Lizbien; Murkin; Mr X; A Bit of a Mouthful; Night Screecher; Rambo; She's Ready; That's Crap

Following a very successful Friday 13th Hash in Exeter the night before, a large motley crew assembled in the Samuel Jones for early doors, before heading across the river to the Topsham Tap to start the hash 2 or 3 pints in – yes, it was going to be one of those hashes!

It was a glorious day and we set off at a blistering pace ... Well, that's how I recall it, but it has to be said that after a couple at the regroup in the Double Locks, and then back to the Topsham Tap for a circle, everything became hazy. I know I was called into the circle a couple times – once for being unable to get myself to the start to co-hare the trail with Mr X (oops!) and again for being follicly challenged ... or was that on Friday's hash ... maybe it was because I borrowed Martini's pink buff to give said bald head a break from the sun!

It was then over to the Waterfront for pizza's and a final few in The Prospect before heading home.

Thank you to Loonies guest hare Mr X for a great hash, and for memorable Friday 13th hash too! Well, I say memorable ... there's probably much more I should have reported on ... but in those well used words "if you can remember the hash, you weren't there!"

On-on, Buzby
