

Date: 13th July 2022

Hash No.: 138 – Rugglestone Inn, Widecombe in the Moor

Hare: Beefy Scribe: She's Ready RA: Buzby

Hashers: Adonis, Big Issue, Chardonnay, Invisible Man, Lilo Lil, Lizbien, Menage, Mad Max, Piss Well, Rambo, Buzby, Night Screecher, She's Ready, Slip On Me, Wide Receiver, Come2nite, Genital Heat Rash

What went on-on

For the first time ever in Hash History, Lizbien walked the trail whilst hubby, Hairy Mollusc stayed in the pub. It is usually the other way round! Slip on Me does not like traditions. Despite being the one who lived the nearest to the venue, she was the first to arrive, not the last. Woody was sporting a pair of lovely coloured leggings. Mad Max was trying to entice any other pub goer to join us on the hash. Menage pushed Wide Receiver's car into the car park and earned himself a lift for all of 20 metres.

The trail started with a check, which was greeted with the usual hash enthusiasm. Hare, Beefy soon got fed up and showed us the way and we headed into the village. The church bell was tolling very mournfully, prompting the hashers to start guessing who had died. Think though it was just a warning to us of the steep climb ahead, which did not faze Lilo Lil or Chardonnay as they set the pace. It must however have taken its toll on them as at the 2nd long short split, they opted for the short option, leaving just She's ready, Piss Well and Wide Receiver to run the whole long trail. Wide Receiver revealed a keen interest in sheep and was reminiscing about the time he lost his virginity. I don't think the 2 are connected. LOL.

On the longs, we temporarily lost the trail as we headed up towards Wind Tor, luckily we were back on track to head down to the Sweet Stop in Dunstone. The walkers were not so lucky, as Adonis led Lizbien and Night Screecher through a cross, meaning they missed out on the sweets. Slip on Me ignored the walkers trail and decided to walk the short trail and somehow ended up ahead of the walkers. It was 6.5 miles for the longs and 4 miles for the shorts. It was a super scenic trail, rather fitting for the Super Moon.

As Wide Receiver was getting changed, Genital Heat Rash was looking on admirably. He protested far too much that it was the car he was admiring, not Wide Receiver.

In the pub, Rambo went straight into the ladies toilets and it took rather a long time to get him out of there. Pearl joined us in the beer garden. Apparently we are not good enough to run with (he claimed he had been running with real athletes). Even though Hairy Mollusc had stayed behind in the pub, he was the one driving home. Big Issue and Invisible Man avoided any disagreements of who was driving by staying overnight in their van. Whilst everyone else was tucking into their pub food, Come2nite splashed out and treated herself, She's Ready and GenitalHeatRash to a packet of crisps each.

Buzby led the circle and rather belatedly asked for a volunteer scribe. He refused to write the words again and gleefully nominated She's Ready as scribe. That could prove to be a costly mistake for him; as That's Crap is soon due to carry out work at ChezBuzbySchreech and guess who does the invoicing! (cue: wicked cackle from She;sReady 😏)

Down-downs

Joining the hare in down-downs, were:

Slip on Me – living nearest and arriving first

Menage – pushing Wide Receiver's car

Wide Receiver – giving Menage a lift of 20 metres

Piss Well and She's Ready – for guiding Wide Receiver on the longs

Next Lunatics

Friday 12th August (Sturgeon Moon): Shaugh Bridge, PL7 5HD. On-down, The White Thorn Inn PL7 5HA (correct at time of going to press. Location may change at the hare's whim)

Hares: Genital Heat Rash and Come2Nite

On-on

She's Ready